

CONTEMPORARY CENTRAL ASIA

Special Issue - No. 1 & 2, 2013

CONTENTS

The Role of Civil Society in the Colour Revolutions: A Case Study of PORA in Ukraine Abel Polese, Tallinn University	1
Russian Minority and its Representation in Kazakhstan Rajan Kumar Assistant Professor, School of International Studies, Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi	20
The Role of External Actors in Post-Soviet Protracted Conflicts Donnacha Ó Beacháin School of Law and Government, Dublin City University And Karolina Ó Beacháin Stefaczak School of Law and Government, Dublin City University	30
The Patterns of Elite Competition in Estonia: Implications for the Theory of post-Communist Transformation Raivo Vetik and Sergei Ivanov Institute of Political Science and Governance, Tallinn University	49
Post-Soviet Political Regimes and Institutions Oxana Kharitonova Associate Professor, MGIMO University and Higher School of Economics, Moscow	62
Civil Society And The State: Turkish And Georgian Trends, 1980-2010 Françoise Companjen, Senior Lecturer, VU University Amsterdam and Managing Director of Caucasus Interconnect Erhan Dogan, Associate Professor, Marmara University, Istanbul	85
Municipal Amalgamations from the Perspective of Multilevel Governance: The Analysis of Voluntary Amalgamations in Estonia Georg Sootla, Professor of Public Policy, Tallinn University Sulev Lääne, Lecturer, Ph.D Student, Tallinn University Kersten Kattai, Lecturer, Ph.D Student, Tallinn University Ave Viks, PhD Student, Tallinn University	112
President Islam Karimov's Keynote Speech at the International Conference on Small Business and Private Entrepreneurship	141
Book Review	157
LIST OF CONTRIBUTORS	165

Published Jointly by the Central Asian Studies Foundation (Regd.),
New Delhi India, and Centre for Russian & Central Asian Studies, School of International Studies, Jawaharlal Nehru Univeristy, New Delhi, India

* Price Rs. 200 * International Price US $ 10 * CIS Country US $ 5 (Postage Extra)

CONTEMPORARY CENTRAL ASIA

SPECIAL ISSUE
NUMBER — 1 & 2

January - August 2013